

AGREEMENT FOR ACADEMIC EXCHANGE BETWEEN
UNIVERSITY OF ANKARA AND PEKING UNIVERSITY

University of Ankara and Peking University have decided to put into practice the following agreement on academic exchange:

1. Both universities will maintain a continuous relationship and will each year exchange all relevant information concerning teaching and research plans.
2. Both universities, subject to the approval of the host university's agreement in each case, shall exchange academic staff as visiting scholars to engage in research and advanced study. The international travel expenses of the scholars will be borne by the sending university; but academic and living expenses at the host university will be paid as far as possible by the host university. The amount of the payment should be determined consistent with the academic rank and the work undertaken by the visiting scholars and should conform to the regulations of the host university.
3. Both universities will also receive visiting scholars for purposes of teaching and the exchange of teaching experiences. For such visits, terms of appointment shall be individually arranged.

4. This academic exchange agreement may be implemented through the financial support of the respective governments or of appropriate foundations.
5. Peking University will assist the Library of University of Ankara to obtain Chinese books and periodicals, both current and out of print, in original or photocopied form, and University of Ankara will assist the Peking University Library to obtain books and periodicals in similar way.
6. Both universities shall make proposals each year for the coming year and, subject to approval by both sides, arrange for the implementation of what has been agreed upon.
7. This agreement may, after consultation, be revised or terminated.
